

Sutton School Reading News

Home learning edition!

Ideas and links for reading while school is closed

Book Swap

Thank you so much to everyone who sent in books for the book swap. We think it is such a great thing that we will keep it open when the school reopens. Please keep us in mind for any books that you no longer need if you are using this time as an opportunity to clear out.

Book reviews

Tanzanite class have been recording videos reviewing books that they would recommend to their class to read. Try posting a book review either written or as a video to your Dojo portfolio.

Online links and support

There have been lots of exciting resources appearing to support children learning from home. Some are listed here, please let us know if you see anything else that you think we ought to share. Some authors are reading their books live:

Cressida Cowell is reading How to train your dragon:

<https://www.booktrust.org.uk/hometime> (there are also other homeschool links here)

Piers Torday has a chapter a day of The Last Wild on Instagram live:

<https://www.pierstorday.co.uk/reading-stories-aloud/>

RJ Palacio is reading Wonder, starting Wednesday at 5.45pm on twitter live:

<https://twitter.com/RJPalacio/status/1242105455947767808?s=19>

David Walliams is reading a book at 11am each day:

<https://www.worldofdavidwalliams.com/elevenses/>

Audible is giving free streaming of hundreds of children's stories:

<https://stories.audible.com/discovery>

Reading at home

The best way to keep your writing imaginative and to improve your spelling is to keep reading! Make sure you are reading for at least twenty minutes each day. Being stuck in the house is a great opportunity to get started on those books that you have been meaning to read for ages!

Library news

We are hoping to open the library for bookable time slots so that you can come and refresh your book selection. More news on this coming soon!